So... it’s Library Ireland Week next week and that means lots of action going on in the LIT libraries to celebrate….and yes there will be lollies too!

The theme this year is ‘Open for business’ so we’re going to be focusing on the library databases we subscribe to which allow you to research right around the clock..24/7 so to speak!

We will be giving a series of extra tutorials on these databases during Library Ireland Week. We will also be running lots of competitions….. so read on and find out how you can be in with a chance to win some prizes.

BOOKMARK COMPETITION

LSAD Library and LIT Clonmel Library are going to run a ‘BOOKMARK’ competition. Simply pick up one of the blank templates at their library issue desk and LET YOUR CREATIVITY FLOW. A number of winners will be selected at random...because we know it would be quite impossible for us to choose winners from such a talented bunch!

The bookmarks will be sold afterwards with all proceeds being divided between ‘Pietá house’ and ‘The student hardship fund’.

CONGRATULATIONS

Sarah Landy,
Deputy Librarian LIT, recently graduated with an honours Masters in Library and Information Management from Northumbria University. Well done from all of us in LIT libraries Sarah :)

Don’t be shy about liking us...
‘Like’ Moylish Library on Facebook during Library Ireland Week and be in with a chance to win a prize!!!
LSAD LIBRARY:

We will be displaying a selection of journals at the front of the library to highlight the extensive range of amazing journals we subscribe to. Every subject you can imagine is accounted for e.g. art history, fashion, menswear, film, photography, nature etc., so come in and peruse.

Recent additions to our list are ‘BOMB’, ‘Maglieria Italia’, and ‘The International Journal of education through Art’.

BOMB

BOMB Magazine has been publishing conversations between artists of all disciplines since 1981. BOMB's founders (New York City based artists and writers) created BOMB because they saw a disparity between the way artists talked about their work among themselves and the way critics described it. Today, BOMB is a multi-media publishing house that creates, disseminates, and preserves artist-generated content from interviews to artists' essays to new literature. BOMB is a quarterly print magazine.

Maglieria Italia

Magazine specializing in knitwear and yarns. 1,000 knitwear items for men and women in more than 300 pages. Detailed information on knitwear collections, on designer fashion shows, on yarns and colours, fashion trends, and Italian and foreign fairs of the sector. Two issues per year.

The International Journal of education through Art

The International Journal of Education through Art is an English language journal that promotes relationships between art and education. The term ‘art education’ should be taken to include art, craft and design education. Each issue, published three times a year within a single volume, consists of peer-reviewed articles mainly in the form of research reports and critical essays, but may also include exhibition reviews and image-text features.

LIT Thurles

Sarah Landy (Deputy Librarian LIT) will do 2 drop-in sessions in Thurles library on Wednesday November 19 at 11am and 2pm highlighting the 24/7 nature of our online resources with particular reference to Business Source Premier, Emerald and ScienceDirect.

LIT Moylish

LIT Library Databases Open for Business 24/7

Tuesday Nov 18th 3pm-4pm and Thursday 11am-12pm

Workshops focusing on the business databases ‘Business Source Complete’, ‘Emerald’, ‘Lexis UK’ and ‘Science Direct’ will be held in the Library Training Room. Come along..we promise it will make your research life easier!

Readers are Leaders

Check out our rotating business book and journal display at LIT Moylish library.
Seeing as it’s Library Ireland Week I thought we’d look at a book lover with a difference. Marilyn Monroe was an avid reader who left a private library of over 400 books after her death. Many of these books were auctioned at Christies in New York in October 1999.

Included in her collection were a great number of Irish playwrights, novelists and poets. Below is a selection of these titles from her shelf.

Ulysses and The Dubliners by James Joyce
Red Roses For Me by Sean O’Casey
I Knock At The Door by Sean O’Casey
Selected Plays by Sean O’Casey
The Green Crow by Sean O’Casey
Long Day's Journey Into Night by Eugene O'Neill
Selected Plays Of George Bernard Shaw
The Unnamable by Samuel Beckett
The Poems And Fairy-Tales by Oscar Wilde
The Portable Irish Reader

So there you have it….she was no ‘dumb blonde’ and she loved Irish Literature!

LSAD LIBRARY BOOK CHARADES

To get all your creative minds working down here in LSAD we’re going to have a range of books wrapped in ‘appropriate’ paper which gives a subtle (or sometimes not so subtle) clue as to the book inside.

Here’s an example of one – ‘WAYS OF SEEING’ By John Berger...and we’re not giving away anymore secrets...but come in and if you are clever enough to guess you’ll be in with a chance to win some nice goodies...and hopefully have a laugh at the same time!
Documents of Contemporary Art...

We love this series of books down in LSAD Library and we’ve just added to the list so now we have the complete collection!

The Documents of Contemporary Art are a series of anthologies co-published by Whitechapel Gallery and The MIT Press which document major themes and ideas in contemporary art. Edited and introduced by a scholar, artist, critic or curator, each of these sourcebooks provide access to a plurality of voices and perspectives on a specific subject or body of writing that has been of key influence to contemporary art internationally. Shown below are a few of those titles...they are brilliant (trust us, we’re librarians)

Save the Date:
Friday 21st of November at 11am LIT Moylish Library are holding an ‘LIT Library Open For Business Networking morning’ where representatives from client companies or anyone in business or interested in setting up a business can meet and network with LIT Librarians and library staff in order to promote the array of information resources and services that Librarians have to offer people in Business.
Light refreshments will be provided on the day.

Want to know how to write that paper?
Colette Real, Library assistant, shall give a series of tutorials on Microsoft Word to LSAD students during library week.

Topics include: Word referencing using Harvard system, inserting pictures, captions and diagrams, numbering, font, spacing, headings, contents page.
Come to LSAD library desk to book your session—you’ll gain awesome skills!

In conjunction with the ‘bookmark Competition’ LIT Clonmel shall also highlight their wide range of business resources by displaying a selection of books and journals.
Talk to the librarians about how the online business databases can be invaluable to your studies!
